Occupying the ground and first floors of a Victorian conversion, this recently renovated maisonette extends to over 1,300 square feet, including a garden studio, and has been finished to a high standard throughout. The layout is perfect for entertaining and there is a consistency in the finish that gives the home a calm, considered feel, while retained period proportions ensure a sense of space and balance.

Malwood Road sits within the Nightingale Triangle, well placed for Clapham South Underground station and the open green spaces of Clapham Common. The independent shops, cafés and restaurants of Abbeville Village are within easy reach, along with a number of well regarded state and private schools, making the area both established and well connected.
